

Dear (your child's name or nickname)

Already X days since my first little letter,
And today I can see you're doing much better!
You gave me your binkie and I took it with care,
Your journey continues, you're almost there!

I just want to remind you that you should be proud,
Whisper it, say it, or shout it out loud:
"I don't need my suckie when I go off to bed,
I'm growing up now, I've got adventures ahead!"

But from time to time your eyes might fill with tears,
Remember you're brave, you can conquer your fears!
You're a big kid now with big plans and big dreams,
If you believe in yourself, you'll do incredible things!

Congratulations again on coming so far!
Big hugs and big kisses to my number one star!

Pacita
